Chapter 1: Introduction and Background

1.1 Introduction

The Official Languages Act 2003 provides for the preparation by public bodies of a language scheme detailing the services which they will provide:

- through the medium of Irish,
- through the medium of English, and
- through the medium of Irish and English

and the measures to be adopted to ensure that any service not currently provided by the body through the medium of the Irish language will be so provided within an agreed timeframe.

In accordance with section 14(3) of the Act, language schemes remain in force for a period of 3 years or until such time as a new scheme is confirmed by the Minister for Culture, Heritage and the Gaeltacht, whichever is the later.

1.2 Preparation and Content of the Scheme

In the preparation of this scheme, due regard has been given to the Guidelines issued by the Department of Culture Heritage and the Gaeltacht. In addition, there has been a comprehensive process of consultation with relevant stakeholders.

The Department of the Taoiseach is guided by the principle that the provision of Irish language services should be based on:

- the level of demand for specific services in the Irish language,
- the importance of a proactive approach to the provision of such services, and
- the resources, including human and financial resources, and the capacity of the body concerned to develop or access the necessary language capability.

This scheme complements the principles of Quality Customer Service and our Customer Charter. It has been formulated with the intention of ensuring that all relevant obligations under the Official Languages Act by the Department of the Taoiseach will be fully addressed on an incremental basis, through this and future schemes.

Only applicable to public bodies with previous confirmed schemes

This Scheme is predicated on all of the commitments in any previous scheme having been implemented. In the event of commitments in earlier schemes not having been fully implemented to date, this matter has been the subject of discussion with the Office of An Coimisinéir Teanga.

The time and effort put in by all concerned in this process is acknowledged and appreciated.

1.3 Commencement date of the Scheme

This Scheme has been confirmed by the Minister for Culture, Heritage and the Gaeltacht. It commences with effect from 01 July 2019 and shall remain in force for a period of 3 years or until a new scheme has been confirmed, whichever is the later.

Chapter 2: Overview of Department of the Taoiseach

2.1 Mission and Objectives

Our purpose is to help the Taoiseach and the Government to develop a sustainable economy and a successful society, to pursue Ireland's interests abroad, to implement the Government's Programme and to build a better future for Ireland and all her citizens.

Our work is guided by the Vision, Mission and Values of the Civil Service.

Vision

- To provide a world-class service to the State and to the people of Ireland.

Mission

- To offer objective and evidence-informed advice to Government, respond to developments, and deliver Government objectives while striving to achieve optimal outcomes in the long-term national interest.
- To serve citizens and stakeholders efficiently, equally and with respect, in a system that is open, transparent and accountable.

Values

- A deep-rooted public service ethos of independence, integrity, impartiality, equality, fairness and respect.
- A culture of accountability, efficiency and value for money. The highest standards of professionalism, leadership and rigour.

As a discrete aspect of our Mission, we work, not only to ensure that these values are embedded in our own organisation as we work internally and externally; but that we provide leadership for the Civil Service as a whole as it engages with the public and with the political system. This includes our positive duty under the Irish Human Rights and Equality Commission Act 2014 to have regard to human rights and equality in the performance of our functions.

2.2 Main Functions

- Delivering the Executive functions of the Taoiseach and the Government
- Providing the Government Secretariat
- Supporting the Taoiseach in carrying out his duties as Head of Government, including in relation to the Oireachtas, Constitutional issues, Protocol, the European Council, the North/South Ministerial Council and the British-Irish Council
- Working with the Office of the President and with the Oireachtas
- Engaging with the formulation and implementation of government policy, mainly through the system of Cabinet Committees, Senior Officials' Groups, the Programme for Government Office and the Parliamentary Liaison Unit
- the Office of the Taoiseach (as well as support for the Tánaiste)
- Support for Independent Ministers in Government
- the Office of the Government Chief Whip (who also has responsibility for the Central Statistics Office, and for Gaeilge, Gaeltacht and the Islands)

- Support for the Ministers of State assigned to the Department (with responsibility for Defence; for European Affairs; and for Trade, Employment, Business, the EU Digital Single Market, and Data Protection)
- the Government Information Service
- Providing briefing and advice for the Taoiseach on the full range of domestic policy issues and on international affairs (including through the work of the National Economic and Social Council)
- Supporting the Taoiseach and Government in the formulation and implementation of Ireland's EU, Northern Ireland and international policies, including coordination across the whole of Government
- Delivering support services through Corporate Affairs Division (HR, Finance, ICT and other services)

2.3 Key Services

In addition to the activities listed above, considerable time and effort goes into answering parliamentary questions, preparing material for use in the Oireachtas, processing Freedom of Information requests, answering letters and queries from the public, organising events, preparing speeches and responding to media queries.

Given that much of the Department's work is linked to Government business and interaction with other Government Departments and Agencies, we do not experience a significant level of demand from the public for service in Irish.

2.4 Customers and Clients

The Department interacts with a broad spectrum of stakeholders including:

- The Taoiseach, Government Chief Whip and Ministers of State, the Government, public representatives and other Government Departments, Offices and Agencies
- The institutions and parties in Northern Ireland, other Governments and international institutions
- A wide range of actors from outside the public service

We also have links with the academic and research community, with business, with the legal and other professions, and with suppliers of goods and services to the Department.

Unlike many Government Departments, we have limited direct contact with the general public and are not primarily involved in the provision of specific public services to the general public. However, members of the public contact the Department for information or with other queries, and the Taoiseach's Private and Constituency Offices deal with most of these enquiries.

The Government Information Service also has a significant role to play in conveying information to the wider public. We also facilitate Saturday Tours of Government Buildings by members of the general public. Further information on our services to the public in Irish and English is given in the next section.
